BRINES STILL AT LARGE

Accused Lad's Mother in Hospital From Nervous Collapse.

PHILADELPHIA. Oct. 22.—Police are soking for a second man and possibly woman who are implicated in the oting of Eimer C. Drewes, the Dartouth College senior, for the murder whom William P. Brines has been named in a warrant.

Major Wynn, ex-chief of detectives declared to-day that although no move has been advanced why Brines, a Uniersity of Pennsylvania student, should have killed his chum and friend, direct evidence points to him as the murderer. Police and detectives are covering many possible places where Brines is believed possible places where Brines is believed to appear.

Mrs. Annie E. Brines, the student's mother, is now in a hospital in the southern part of the city in a state of nervous collapse. Detectives guard the approach of her private room and allow no one but relatives and hospital attendants to see her. Even the detectives themselves have not tried to talk to her, they say.

Mrs. Brines went to the hospital Thursday, after she had been at the home of her brother, Mr. Wiggins, Tuesday and Wednesday. Members of the family there declare both she and her family there declare both she and her son, who was with her until Wednesday afternoon, were then in a highly nervous state, refused to eat and said they were ill. It is known, however, that Mrs. Brines had engaged her hospital room some days before the name of her són was mentioned in the case.

Detective Belshaw said the disinclination of the dead boy's family to believe Brines could have been connected with Drewes' death prevented the arrest of Brines several days ago. Belshaw declared that had the family told him on Monday night facts later disclosed he could have arrested Brines that night. Mrs. Brines, it was said, had visited the Drewes home on Sunday afternoon to condole with them on their son's death. When she left she promised to return that evening, bringing her son with her, but she did not return.

MRS. KENYON GETS TEN YEARS, SWOONS

Woman Who Killed Dr. Tetlow Loses Composure Shown in Trial.

Pecial Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. NORWICH, Conn., Oct. 22.—Mrs. Mabel Kenyon of Stonington, convicted earlier in the day of manslaughter in the killas of Dr. Herbert Tetlow of Pawtucket on June 11, was sentenced this afternoon to serve from ten to fifteen years in prison. Mrs. Kenyon had heard the verdict of the jury without emotion, but when Judge Hinman pronounced sentence upon her she swooned and was led from the court room by a friend carried from the court room by a friend and a detective. She was taken at once to the New London jail, and will later be transferred to the State prison in Wethersfield. Her counsel announced the case would not be appealed.

Judge Hinman addressed the jury for an hour early this morning. The jury was out an hour and a half and after the verdict had been handed down Mrs. Kenyon and her husband and two or three friends retired to an anteroom to await the sentence. During this time Mrs. Kenyon retained her composure, but her husband, who had been so unnerved that he was not able to come into the court room during the morning, became

$100,000 ARMSTRONG

Surrogate to Decide Whether Heirs or Charities Get It.

Beecial Despatch to The New York Harald.
POUGHERSPRIE, Oct. 22.—Surrogate Daniel J. Glesson was called on to-day to construct the will of the late Henry Beekman Armstrong of the town of Red Hook, to decide whether the Astors, the Chapmans, the Addriches, the Van Allens, the Colliers, the Roosevells, the Clays and Livingstions shall receive the residue of the $100,000 estate or whether this shall go to charity in Rhinebeck.

Heary Beekman Armstrong died September 9, 1912, leaving the life use of his estate to his brother, James S. Armstrong. He croated a trust fund for such charitable, philanthrophic and bendelat purposes within the town of Rhinebeck as the trustees should seem meet and propage.
